If this is your choice, be certain to adhere to my guidance: usually use a razor produced for women. Be sure your pubic hair is clean, and as short as possible prior to using the razor. You can use a hair clipper to trim it as short as you can before using the razor. After that, use shaving cream or foam carefully more than all your pubic area, and continue to shave carefully with the razor. Rinse the razor with water very often, and make certain you always have plenty of shaving product in your pubic zone.

Everyone has an off day. If you feeling your hair stylist is having one, leave. Or, if you sense you and your new hair professional do not see eye to eye, depart. You are not obligated to get your haircut by somebody you do not trust. Steer clear of haircut remorse and get out while you can.
